COUPLES' ADVANCED COURSE

Specialist sensual massage & advanced erotic foreplay

Private couples training · 3 hours · £900

A personally guided course for couples with previous sensual massage experience who want to develop greater confidence, variety and understanding of advanced arousal and intimate pleasure. The training draws on the School's Massage My Woman and Massage My Man Advanced programmes.

What you will learn

Techniques for a female partner: Advanced arousal awareness, varied oral approaches and positioning, combined external and internal stimulation concepts, and techniques that may support female ejaculation. These are possibilities, never guaranteed outcomes.

Techniques for a male partner: Varied oral approaches and positioning, external prostate-related massage, optional introduction to internal prostate massage with hygiene and anatomical understanding, and consensual light domination and assertive erotic direction.

Shared skills: Communication, pacing, reading feedback, adapting pressure and positioning, and weaving selected elements into a flowing, personally meaningful sensual massage.

The three-hour format

A combination of verbal teaching, demonstration, hands-on guided practice and feedback. The programme is tailored to your existing experience and agreed interests; no one is expected to perform every element.

Comfort, consent & confidence

All intimate, oral, internal and dominant techniques are individually agreed in advance and remain optional throughout. The training emphasises hygiene, comfort, safer-sex awareness, communication and the ability to stop or change direction at any point.

The course is intended for couples who have completed earlier training or can demonstrate equivalent practical experience. Colin will discuss your goals and readiness before confirming the session.

Course fee & booking

£900 per couple · 3 hours. A £450 deposit (50%) secures the appointment, with the remaining £450 payable on the training day. Cancellation and rescheduling terms will be provided before booking confirmation.
