

School of Sensual Massage

Courses Events Community

Couples' Sensual Massage Experiential Session

A personally guided introduction to sensual massage, intimate connection and the pleasure of giving together.

Learn together. Give together. Discover more.

An immersive, private taster experience in which both partners can explore the fundamentals of sensual massage through practical participation, under the personal guidance of Colin Richards.

Complete Couples' Experience: 3½ hours · £450 per couple

Single-Receiver Experience: 2½ hours · £350 per couple

Location: Private teaching venue near Sloane Square, Chelsea, London

A Shared Experience, Tailored to You

Unlike a conventional massage appointment, this is a practical learning experience. Colin demonstrates and guides the giving partner as you work together to create a personalised, full-body sensual massage for the receiving partner. You learn by doing, with feedback and guidance throughout.

The Complete Couples' Experience

£450 per couple · 3½ hours

30-minute introductory conversation

Discuss your aims, comfort, boundaries and the differences and similarities between male and female arousal, including the importance of anticipation, communication and a pressure-free approach.

First 75-minute four-hands massage

One partner receives a guided, full-body sensual massage given by Colin and the other partner together.

Second 75-minute four-hands massage

You exchange roles so the other partner can receive, while the first partner learns the giving techniques alongside Colin.

30 minutes for preparation and transitions

The overall appointment includes time for practical preparation, changing over, short pauses and a closing conversation.

The experience draws on the principles of Colin's Absolute Massage for women and Premium Massage for men, adapted to each person's preferences, boundaries and comfort. The aim is a memorable experience of giving and receiving, not a fixed routine or a requirement to progress to any particular form of touch.

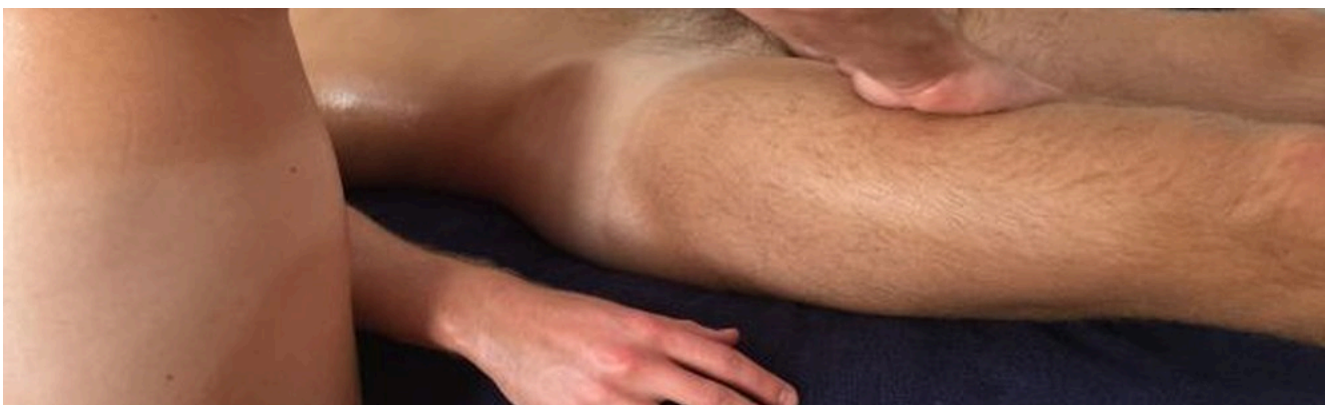

A Shorter Option for One Receiver

2½ hours · £350 per couple

If only one partner wishes to receive, the shorter option allows the other partner to focus on learning. Following an introductory discussion, Colin and the giving partner work together to provide a personally guided, 75-minute four-hands sensual massage for the receiver. The remaining appointment time allows for preparation, coaching, questions and reflection.

What You Can Take Away

A better understanding of sensual touch, the importance of pacing and anticipation, and practical techniques you can adapt to your own intimate life. You will explore how to communicate about pleasure and preferences, respond sensitively to feedback and enjoy the giving experience as well as the receiving.

Private, Respectful and Consent-Led

The session is designed for adult couples of all genders and orientations. Before any practical work, the activities and boundaries are discussed and agreed. Each participant can decline, modify or stop any technique at any time. The massage is tailored to the individual and there is no expectation of orgasm or intercourse.

Your Tutor & Booking

Colin Richards founded the School of Sensual Massage as the educational platform of Intimacy Matters. He brings more than 20 years of professional practice to his individually guided teaching in Chelsea, London.

Website: schoolofsensualmassage.co.uk

Email: colin@intimacymatters.co.uk

Telephone / WhatsApp: +44 (0)7966 522 696

Dates are arranged personally. Please enquire about availability, the shorter-session price and any particular preferences or access requirements.